Feed PURINATURE LAYENA as follows:

Feed PURINATURE LAYENA ABF free-choice to layers 19 weeks of age or when laying begins. Usually hens will consume between 110 to 130 g/hen/day. Depending on temperature this could range from 120-140 g/hen/day.

For Good Results You Will Need:

1. Clean fresh water available for the birds on a free choice basis at all times.
2. One tube feeder for every 10 - 12 hens or 10 cm. of feeder space per hen.
3. One nest for every 5 to 7 hens.
4. Bedding material to keep the hens warm and clean. Wood shavings, straw and/or sawdust make good bedding materials. The bedding material should be approximately 10 cm deep.
5. Supplemental light and ensure that the hens receive 14 to 17 hours of continuous light per day to stay in egg production. If the lights are turned on at 6 a.m. most hens will lay their eggs by 11 a.m.
6. Supplement heat during the months. Egg production is substantially reduced when the temperature is less than 15 degrees Celsius. (approximately 60 Fahrenheit)

OPTIMIZE YOUR LAYING RATION

Clarence Farm Services Ltd. recommends you follow these management practices:

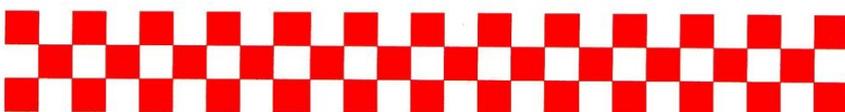

1. Provide a source of clean, fresh water at all times.
2. Consult your veterinarian for recommended flock health program.
3. Directions for use must be followed carefully.
4. Do not feed this feed in association with another grain ration, supplement or premix containing selenium.
5. Feed is perishable. Store in a dry, well ventilated area protected from rodents and insects. Do not feed mouldy or insect-infested feed to animals or it may cause illness, abortion, or death.

These recommendations are intended as a guide. They should be adjusted to variables of management, environment and individual needs. If necessary, consult your local Purina Dealer or Clarence Farm Services Ltd. Farm Consultant.
